

Good Morning,

In my own case the code requirement kept me out of amateur radio for almost thirty years. Earlier this year I found out that I could get a Technician license without code and I did. Please give serious consideration to dropping the morse code requirement for use of the HF bands. I have no plans of using code beyond the point of passing any testing requirements and I believe this is a common sentiment. Thanks for your time and attention on this matter.

Robert Pariza - KD5WPX